About DARTS

The Delta Area Rural Transit System opened in 1990 with two minivans. At the start, DARTS only offered transportation to people who needed medical care. However, in 1993, DARTS received funding from the Mississippi State Department of Transportation and with these funds; DARTS seized the opportunity to open its buses to the general public. The rationale behind the expansion was simple: DARTS officials felt that the same people who needed rides to doctors' offices may also need reliable transportation to get to and from work. DARTS tailored its services to transport local residents in need of transportation to and from jobs at local penitentiaries and casinos located along the Mississippi River.

Today, DARTS operates 46 multi-passenger vehicles that connect people with promising jobs, training opportunities, shopping centers, childcare centers, and human services agencies in Coahoma, DeSoto, Quitman, Panola, Tallahatchie, Tate, and Tunica Counties. The phenomenal growth that DARTS has experienced is due to the following:

- The expansion of the regional job market and the increased need for affordable employment transportation;
- The proactive coordination of services with employment agencies, local employers, human service agencies, and potential customers;
- The aggressive efforts to gain capital and operating funds from various organizations such as the Mississippi Department of Transportation and other local municipalities.

DARTS is also part of Delta Rides, a network of non-profit organizations that provide transportation services within the Mississippi Delta region.
